Solar Storms: Are You Ready For Them?

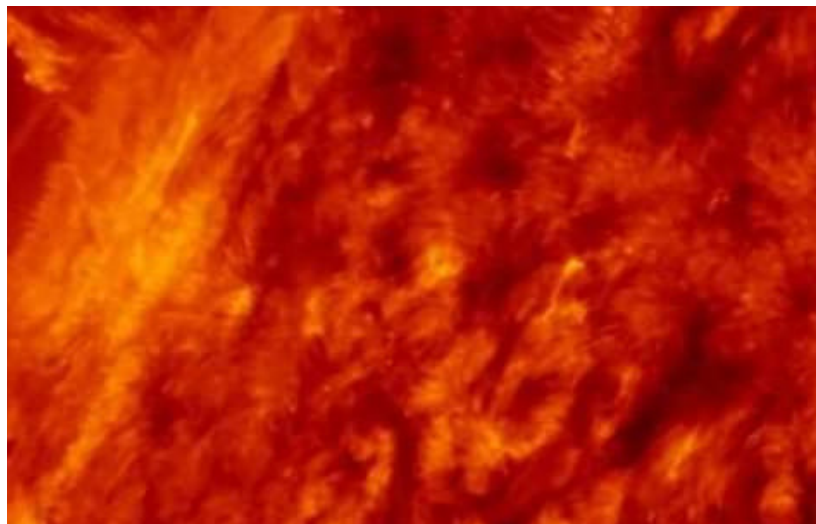

Of all the potential disasters you could be worried about, solar storms aren't likely to rank high on the list. Perhaps space weather deserves a little more of your attention. Far from being the stuff of old science fiction stories, solar storms are very real and very dangerous. Scientists have seen extreme solar storms in the past few years that would have been absolutely devastating if they reached Earth.

Solar storms deserve the title of "the invisible natural disaster." The sun is constantly emitting solar flares, magnetized streams of outbound coronal material. When a large number of powerful flares are released in close proximity, the result is a solar storm – and with enough bad luck, it could be aimed right at Earth. While these streams of charged particles are impossible to see, if they hit our planet they could spell the end of all sorts of advanced telecommunications equipment.

AN MRE SELLER

MREs or Meals Ready to Eat are among the most technologically advanced and physically resilient foods in North America. However, this does not mean that they have good defenses against theft. Do you question how Amazon, eBay or the army surplus store obtained their MREs?

So how can you tell if the MREs you are being sold is potentially one of the stolen ones? You cannot actually be certain unless you are buying from a secure source. However, there are 4 signs that you should look for which could be red flags.

The MREs Are Very Cheap

If you are trying to get rid of something in a hurry you are going to be lowering the price. Some sellers see discarded and old MREs as a means of making some quick cash.
